The impact of Africa – political partner and global actor

Thursday 7 May, 16.00-18.00
Nobel Peace Centre, Rådhusplassen, Oslo

Africa is changing. The impacts of finance and climate crises challenge recent economic, political and democratic achievements in Africa.

- How are new generations influencing Africa's political landscapes?
- How can global (and Norwegian) business maximise Africa's investment opportunities?
- What is the present and future voice of Africa in global institutions?

Norwegian Minister of Foreign Affairs Jonas Gahr Støre and Minister of the Environment and International Development Erik Solheim in dialogue with

- Geraldine Fraser-Moleketi, experienced politician from South Africa, now with UNDP
- James Shikwati, Kenya, business leader, CEO of the African Executive Magazine
- Cyril Obi, Nigeria, researcher, the Nordic Africa Institute, Uppsala
- Nosizwe Baqwa, former leader for African students in Oslo

Moderator: Bente E. Engesland
